

Become a Member of the Center for Talent Reporting

CTR membership is a great value. As a member of CTR, you are an important part of an engaged, collaborative community of talent management executives and practitioners. In addition, you support our mission to improve the measurement, reporting and management of human capital, including Talent Development Reporting principles (TDRp) and TDRp certification.

MEMBER BENEFITS

- Access to all TDRp and Business Acumen webinars
- Measures Library with definitions, formulas, references and sources
- Excel versions of more than 66 sample statements and reports
- Resources to help with certification and implementation
- Access to White Papers providing detailed guidance on implementing and using TDRp
- Access to Recordings and PowerPoints of all webinars so you can watch whenever it is most convenient
- Inclusion in an on-line members-only community to network with your peers and to share best practices
- $200 discount on the 2-day TDRp Basics Workshop and a $100 discount on the Annual TDRp Conference
- Access to Members Only page with proprietary content including a guide to Business Acumen Resources

What is TDRp?

Talent Development Reporting principles (TDRp) is an industry-led initiative to establish internal reporting principles and standards for human capital. This guidance includes a simple, yet comprehensive, framework for planning, collecting, defining and reporting the critical outcome, effectiveness and efficiency measures needed to deliver results and contribute to the success of the organization.

Your Partner for Demonstrating the Value of Human Capital

Established in 2012, The Center for Talent Reporting (CTR) was created to develop and promote the adoption of reporting standards for human capital that meets the needs of senior executives, talent management leaders, program managers and other stakeholders.

Consider CTR your strategic business partner, dedicated to helping you run talent like a business to have greater impact on your corporate objectives and become a valued, strategic business partner. We do this by:

- Creating industry standards
- Providing guidance for the use of those standards
- Developing statements and reports
- Creating professional certification for practitioners

JOIN NOW!

STUDENT	REGULAR	CORPORATE
$99*	$299	$1,199/1,999

* Student memberships are available to full- and part-time students who are not employed full-time.

 Corporate memberships are available to organizations which provide a discount on individual memberships. Corporate membership is $1,199 for five (5) individuals/$1,999 for ten (10) individuals.

TDRp Training

- Workshops: Hands on, interactive sessions covering all elements of TDRp including assumptions, principles, types and definitions of measures and creation and use of statements and reports.
- Webinars: Participate in live webinars with industry experts who can answer your questions as you learn about how to effectively implement TDRp.
- Certification: Gain recognition and credibility for demonstrating knowledge of TDRp. Earning a professional certification, you can help differentiate yourself from your peers by knowing how to implement best-practices in human capital reporting and management.

CTR Partners

Partners are very important to the Center for Talent Reporting's mission and vision. Partners are organizations, including vendors and consultants, that demonstrate leadership in the talent development industry. There are numerous benefits to sponsorship. Please visit our website for more information.

Platinum Partner

Gold Partner

Performance. At a higher level.

Silver Partner

Skillssoft is a Founding CTR Silver Partner

Bronze Partners

Bellevue University Human Capital Lab and ROI Institute, Inc. are Founding CTR Bronze Partners

Center for Talent Reporting

2123 Cape Hatteras Ct. • Windsor, CO 80550-3536

Tel: 970•460•0837 • Fax: 970•460•0361

Email: DVance@CenterforTalentReporting.org

www.CenterforTalentReporting.org

MISSION • VISION

Mission: Improve and standardize the measurement, reporting, and management of human capital to deliver significant business value.

Vision: Talent Development Reporting principles (TDRp) are broadly accepted and widely employed as the world-class reporting standard for all human capital processes.